BANGOR,

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1837.

THE SUSQUEHANNA The question settled. The steamer New York, which was reported to have spoken the Susquehanna, on her passage to Charleston, has returned to New York. The Commercial Advertiser of Thursday gives a more detailed account of the meeting of the ship and steamer Capt Spinney says he spoke the Susquehanna on Sunday the 21st ult at 10 o'clock, about ten leagues from Cape Henlopen, bearing East South East He passed under her stern, near enough to have thrown a biscuit on board her, saw passengers, some of them ladies, on deck, and read her name The weather was calm and the ship pursuing her course with all sail set. So she could not have been captured on Saturday the 20th ult

The schooner Planet, at New York, from Charleston, reports that she spoke the Susquehanna, on Sunday, 21st ult at 12 o clock

A gentleman, who came by steamboat on Saturday evening, reports that a ship arrived at New York on Thursday from Liverpool, which spoke the Susquehanna five days out

The Van Buren Loco-Focos in Massachusetts a diminutive but desperate band, are adopting their usual modes of electioneering On the eve of the annual election in the Commonwealth, they are circulating the grossest calumnies upon the character of Governor Everett, who is before the people for re election Among other things they are attempting to excite against him the morbid sensibilities of the Abolitionists, by asserting that he is a friend to the institution of slavery and that he "would imprison every conscientious christian, who should speak in favor of the enslaved African" Governor Everett has felt himself obliged to resort to a public refutation of this base slander The following is the concluding paragraph of his letter upon the subject to Winthrop Atwill of Northampton, published in the Northampton Courier

"But it requires no modification of any opinion ever expressed or entertained by me, to regard slavery as I do, as a social, political and moral evil of the first magnitude, whose removal, as soon as it can be constitutionally and peacefully effected, ought to be, and I believe is ardently desired by every good citizen and good man in the country Its proposed indefinite extension, by the annexation of Texas, I should regard as the greatest evil, that could possibly befall the Union"

RHODE ISLAND LEGISLATURE The General Assembly of Rhode Island convened at South Kingston on Tuesday The House was organized by choosing for Speaker George Curtis, (Whig) of Providence, and for Clerks, George Rives of Providence, and Edward H Hazard of South Kingston For some years past the Tories have had a majority in the House, but the tables are now turned

THE FLORIDA WAR

GROSS VILLANY The crowded state of our columns to-day prevents us from copying entire an article from the Missouri Republican giving the particulars of one of the most detestable transactions on the part of the Secretary of War, towards the northern Indians which he has employed upon the Southern campaign. The act of employing one tribe of these poor, cheated, wretched beings to exterminate another, was an act that could not be viewed with any other feeling than of shame by every American, but what shall we say to the following developements The Secretary, in his order for their employment promised them 45 dollars a month for six months, or about 270 dollars for the whole time Under this agreement the Delaware and Shawnees furnished about 200 men, who were received and left their homes for the seat of war After they were fairly under way, and the Secretary perceived the comments made upon the transactions by the public press another order was sent In this order the Secretary alleged that a mistake was made by the Clerks of the Department, in relation to the pay of the Indians That instead of TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY dollars, the sum stipulated to be paid for the six months' service, he only intended to allow them seventy dollars for that period A SMALL MISTAKE on the part of the clerks, of two hundred dollars to each man! That in case the services of the Indians are procured, the officer to whom this order was directed was instructed to notify them of this mistake, and if they were not willing to accept of the new terms, he was instructed to disband them! The indignation aroused in the breast of every honorable man, at such dishonorable, disgraceful and contemptible double dealing, will not admit of expression It should make any American blush and hang his head

[From the Boston Courier]

LATEST FROM FLORIDA The express mail of yesterday brought news of the capture, by stratagem, of the Indian Chief Powell, with 50 warriors The St Augustine Herald says that Powell, Coahajo, and several sub chiefs are among the captured The capture took place about a mile from Fort Payton. The talk was a very short one. They stated that they had been invited by Philip to come and hear what propositions were to be made to them, that they did not come to deliver themselves as prisoners, and nothing was said that seemed to indicate that they were yet conquered As soon as this fact was ascertained, at a preconcerted signal, they were surrounded by the troops of the United States, and all taken prisoners They were completely surprised and captured without blood shed

TREMENDOUS HURRICANE

CUYAHOGA FALL, (Ohio,) Oct 20

We have just returned from the scene of one of the most shocking calamities that it has ever fallen to our lot to record or witness. About three o clock this morning, the dwelling house of Mr. Frederick Sandford, of Stow, was struck by a violent whirlwind, which raised it from the ground, and scattered it into a thousand fragments

A great part of the house lay scattered over an area of an acre of ground, some six or eight rods from the place where it formerly stood Amid the remains of broken timbers, of every thing that had been in or about the house, were found the dead bodies of Mr Sandford s mother and two of his sons, cold, wet, bruised and mangled, Mr Sandford just alive, who died in a short time after and his wife and daughter much injured, and nearly senseless, who, when we left, were in a fair way to recover, though yet weak, and suffering greatly from bodily as well as mental anguish

Mrs Sandford remembers jumping out of bed but more than that she has no recollection of, until she found herself upon the cold, wet ground unable to move It is utterly impossible to describe the scene presented to the eye of the beholder in the vicinity of the dwelling destroyed We saw as many as four hogs killed by the timbers, one bed, ten rods from where the house had stood, lodged 30 feet high in the top of a hickory tree while another bed, and some other articles, were a mile distant I saw no part of the roof, except one or two broken ribs, though I was told part of the roof was found at least a hundred rods off One plate to which was attached a part of one centre post by the barn, 20 rods distant, and beyond this, five or six rods was an ox cart at least thirty rods from the place where it stood, and, if it went direct, must have passed over the barn Large trees were broken down and torn off, fences scattered in every direction, apple-trees torn up by the roots, &c &c The direction of the wind was to the northeast, in breadth not more than thirty or forty rods How far it is continued we have not heard

HORRID AFFAIR

From the Columbus, Pa Spy of the 28th ult

Our town has been thrown into a state of great excitement in consequence of an outrageous act committed on Monday night last, by another of the gang of desperadoes who infest that quarter of the town called Tow Hill, It appears that about 11 o'clock on the night in question, Mr Benjamin Peart, a very respectable farmer, residing immediately outside of the precincts of the borough, close by the turnpike road leading to Lancaster, heard a noise in his pig sty, and on going to it, in order to ascertain the meaning of it, perceived a negro helping himself to a couple of shoats, whose throats he had cut, and was in the act of depositing them in a bag Mr Peart at once went forward to save his property and secure the thief Mr P caught the villain but in the strugle received a thrust from a knife in the stomach and a continued cut quite across it, before the instrument was withdrawn, and several other stabs in different parts of his person Still he held on until exhausted from loss of blood, when he was forced to cry murder and for help He was heard by a man of the name of Cruzer, who keeps a tavern on the opposite side of the road to Mr Peart's, who on coming to his assistance, the negro fled Cruzer pursued and overtook him, but when in the act of taking hold of him, was felled by a back handed stroke of the knife by the negro, driven up to the hilt in the stomach The supposed assasin was arrested the next morning and committed He is a stout rough fellow and is named Hen Smith The knife used, is a shoemaker s knife ground down thin and sharp, and is well suited to the hand of the assassin Both of the individuals stabbed, are in a low and precarious situation, and their recovery is considered extremely doubtful

After about one half of our edition had gone through the press, we received information that Mr Peart expired this morning about 4 o'clock.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY A young man named Cornelius Arnold, from Westchester, came to this city a few days back on his way to Albany, and went down to the river to inquire at what hour the boat left, and asked for information from a young man whom he met on the pier The latter informed Arnold that he also intended to go to Albany that evening, but that the boat would not leave New York for some hours, and that in the interim he was going over to see Hoboken and invited Arnold to accompany him, which the latter did accordingly After they got to Hoboken, Arnold s new acquaintance induced him to accompany him a little way into the country, and when they had proceeded a short distance from Hoboken they met another man on the road, who was evidently an accomplice of the fellow who coaxed Arnold over, and the two rascals knocked Arnold down and robbed him of all the money he had on his person, being about $50, and then ran away Arnold returned to this city and complained of the robbery at the police office, and gave such a description of the robbers as will probably lead to their detection [N Y Journal]

[From the Newark Daily Advertiser]

IMPORTANT DECISION. A suit was brought in the Circuit Court for this county last week, Judge Ford presiding to recover damages sustained by the owner of a small dwelling house in Mechanic street, in consequence of an attempt made by the defendants to blow it up with powder, in order to stop the progress of the great fire in this city last year After full argument by able counsel, the jury returned a verdict under a charge from the court, in favor of the plaintiff So that it would appear that there exists no legal right to destroy buildings in order to arrest the progress of a conflagration Individuals who do this, must do so under the liability to pay all damages

THE FAR WEST The steamboat St Peters arrived at St Louis on the 22d of Oct from the mouth of the Cansas river, laden with furs and peltries, belonging to the American Fur Company, valued at upwards of $50 000 A gentleman passenger who came from the Mountains, reports that the Indians in all that region were quiet, and apparently friendly The trappers have been successful the past season, [illegible] pursuing their business without fear of attack from the Indians

BREACH IN THE OSWEGO CANAL. The east end of the high dam on the Oswego river, has been carried away, and the navigation of the canal from the next level above to Oswego, has been stopped, there is no probability of its being repaired The forwarders at Oswego are carting their loading about three miles to a point where they can ship it on board of their boats

KIDNAPPERS. Two individuals G F Albertie and Andrew S Smith, have been arrested in Philadelphia, for kidnapping free negroes in Philadelphia, carrying them to Baltimore and then selling them.

FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS

Mr Calhoun, since he has united his political fortunes with Mr Van Buren, is singularly unfortunate in the facts which he adduces to support his arguments. The case of the United States Banks in which he was overthrown by Mr Southard, we alluded to a week ago The following we quote from the Raleigh (N C) Star [Atlas

PROC MONEY—SUB TREASURY

The paper currency issued by North Carolina, immediately after the close of the revolutionary war, was unfortunately alluded to by Mr Calhoun, in his speech on the currency, as an example of the soundness and stability of a Government currency He had been advised that it 'continued to circulate for more than twenty years, after the adoption of the Federal Constitution, at par with gold and silver On this very material point, Mr C was widely mistaken There were two emissions of this money one hundred thousand pounds in 1783, and the same amount in 1785 It was as stated by Mr Clay, called Proc an abbreviation of the authority under which it was put forth, and in four years after the last emission, it sunk fifty per cent below par so that in 1789, sixteen shillings, which ought to have been equal to two silver dollars, would in fact, command but one!! notwithstanding it was, under the laws of the State, a lawful tender and receivable at the Treasury in payment of the public revenues

ODIOUS COMPARISONS

The considerations involved in the following resolution adopted at the Washington County Convention in New York are indeed of a humiliating character

Resolved, That when we reflect upon the early history of the Government, upon the sacrifices which it cost to establish it, upon the mighty stake which human liberty has in its perpetuity, upon the glorious intellects which have administered it upon George Washington, the father of his country and Thomas Jefferson, the author of the Declaration of Independence, and the luminous array of talent which they gathered around them—when we compare the Government administered by such men to the Government administered by Martin Van Buren and Richard M Johnson, and Amos Kendall, we feel the humiliation of the contrast, as if the whole country was dwarfed and compressed to the dimensions and intellectual standard of its rulers, and blush that the juggling of party discipline should make us unjust to ourselves and shame with deep degeneracy the fame of our fathers

We learn that about 100 young men have been admitted to the new Freshman class in Yale College, and that the number of students connected with the Institution, including those engaged in the study of Law, Medicine, and Divinity is between 500 and 600 The pupils in the different boarding schools, male and female are probably sufficient to swell the aggregate to one thousand, which is about the tenth part of the population [Herald

It is really comforting to meet with an article like the following, when shivering amidst the frosts and snows of a premature winter

PLEASURES OF A TROPICAL CLIMATE. In a moment you are covered with ticks chigoes bury themselves in your flesh and hatch a large colony of chigoes in a few hours They will not live together, but every chigoe sets up a separate ulcer, and has his own private portion of pus Flies get entry into your mouth, eyes, and nose You eat flies, drink flies, and breathe flies Lizards cockatrices, and snakes, get into your bed, ants eat up the books, scorpions sting you on the foot, and every thing bites, stings or bruises, every second of your existence you are wounded by some piece of animal life that nobody has ever seen before, except Swammerdam and Merrion An insect with eleven legs is swimming in your tea cup, a nondescript with nine legs is struggling in the small beer, or a caterpillar with several dozen eyes in his belly, is hastening over the bread and butter All nature is alive, and seems to be gathering all her entomological host to eat you up, as you are standing, out of your coat, waistcoat, & breeches Such are the tropics All these reconcile us to our dews, fogs, vapor, and drizzle to our apothecaries, rushing about with gargles and tinctures, to our constitutional coughs, sore throats and swelled faces [Iberville (La) Ambassador

Lord Melbourne, it appears, is very solicitous about the Queen s marrying, and has repeatedly alluded to the subject with a pressing earnestness that she should, with as little delay as is consistent with propriety, enter into that state of holy bondage which would lead in all probability to the effectual severment of the Cumberland connexion On a late occasion of the Premier's repeating his wishes her Majesty, assuming a good-natured firmness, said, "My Lord Melbourne, if within the next two years you refer to this subject again, I will immediately marry the Duke of Wellington" The noble lord has not since, we are assured, alluded to the subject [English paper

A conceited young man, addressed himself to Dr D——, said, 'I am going to write a book on popular ignorance' "I know no one," said the Doctor gravely, "more competent to prepare such a work"

MEMORY

Oh! why should Memory love to dwell
On pleasure which can come no more?
And why should Fancy s magic spell
So brightly gild each scene of yore?

E en Hope s delusive glittering beam,
May cease to shed its cheering light;
And, dull and cold, Time s onward stream
May flow before the aching sight

But Memory, like a fairy dream,
Still haunts the pensive view,
And, like mild Evening s lingering beam,
Clothes fading scenes in loveliest hue

The Past, with all its glittering train,
Of joys, so sweet, so quickly fled,
At Memory s touch returns again,
To cheer the heart whose hopes are dead

Fond Retrospection lingers near
Each look of bliss which could not last,
And links again that chain so dear,
Which Memory flings around the past

Hopes, Friendships, Loves a seraph band
Which Time's cold blast had rudely torn,
As Memory waves her magic wand,
With more than former bliss return

They come, like Music's distant breath,
So soft, so sweet their whisperings are
And fadeless is that lovely wreath
With which they bind the brow of care

Oh! Memory s joys will always last
No cloud can dim their brilliant ray,
Still bright and brighter glows the past,
As Hope's sweet visions fade away.

THE SOUL'S ERRAND

Go soul the body's guest
Upon a thankless errand,
Fear not to touch the best
The truth shall be thy warrant
Go since I needs must die
And give the world the lie

Go tell the Court it glows,
And shines like rotten wood,
Go tell the Church it shows
What s good and doth no good,
If Church and Court reply,
Give Church and Court the lie

Tell Potentates they live
Acting by others actions,
Not loved, unless they give
Not strong but by their factions
And if Potentates reply,
Give Potentates the lie.

Tell men of high condition,
Who rule affairs of State
Their purpose is Ambition
Their practice only hate
And if they do reply,
Then give them all the lie.

Tell them that brave it most,
They beg for more by spending,
Who in their greatest cost,
Seek nothing but commending.
And if they do reply,
Fail not to give the lie

Tell Zeal it lacks devotion
Tell Love it is but Lust
Tell Time it is but motion
Tell Flesh it is but Dust
And wish them not reply,
For thou must give the lie

Tell Age it daily wasteth,
Tell Honor how it alters
Tell Beauty how it waneth,
Tell Favor how she falters
And as they shall reply,
Give every one the lie

Tell Wit how much it wrangles
In treble points of niceness
Tell Wisdom she entangles
Herself in our wiseness
And when they do reply,
Straight give them both the lie

Tell Fortune of her blindness,
Tell Nature of decay,
Tell Friendship of unkindness,
Tell Justice of delay
And if they will reply
Then give them all the lie

Tell Arts they have no soundness,
But vary by esteeming,
Tell schools they want profoundness,
And stand too much on seeming
If Arts and Schools reply,
Give Arts and Schools the lie

Tell truth it's fled the city,
Tell how the country erreth,
Tell Manhood shakes off pity,
Tell Virtue least preferreth
And if they do reply,
Spare not to give the lie.

And when thou hast as I
Commanded thee, done blabbing,
Altho to give the lie
Deserves no less than stabbing,
Yet stab at thee who will
No stab the soul can kill

ACCIDENT The steam ferry boat Delaware at New York had her boiler collapsed, on Tuesday, killing the engineer, John Thorne, of Camden, and injuring a Mr Day, bell hanger A boy was thrown overboard by the shock but was rescued The boiler was torn from end to end, and the deck of the boat burst open above it, together with the larboard wheel house The causes of this accident are not known, but it is supposed that the engineer neglected to raise the weight from the safety valve

OBITUARY.

Oh Death! thou monarch of terrific sting

Departed this life at Dixmont on the morning of the 29th ult, Albert A Wilcox, jr, in the thenty third year of his age, formerly of York, Maine

Death has in few instances come more unawares The transition from health to the grave has occupied but a few days How can we associate the thought of death with one, who was so lately with us in full enjoyment of perfect health and pleasure whose animating spirit was so framed as one to receive happiness himself and yet more to administer it to others

Possessed of a pleasing exterior suavity of manners a disposition the most benign he was endeared to all who knew him by the strongest ties of friendship His body may moulder and decay, and the marble slab which marks the resting place of departed worth, may crumble beneath the touch of time, but his memory will grow greener with the lapse of years, and the virtues which enobled, grow fresher as time rolls on May his afflicted relations receive comfort from him whose goodness is infinite, and may those who

HEALTH, PROFIT AND CONVENIENCE

THE subscriber respectfully informs the citizens of Bangor and vicinity that he has purchased of Mr H Evans the right of using O Badger s Feather Renovator in the County of Penobscot and is now prosecuting said business at Wingate's building near E Mcguire's in Bangor, where he will be pleased to receive and execute all orders in his line with strict fidelity and despatch He would invite the attention of the public anew to examine more particularly the merits of the new operation by which both old and new Feathers are so decidedly improved, by being freed from every impurity, animal, and every other and swelled to their full size, and made as elastic and lively as when first taken from the fowl It has been suggested that it would be highly proper that beds which have been used by sick persons should undergo the operation as a healthy process

The subscriber is confident that when fully examined it will be found so decidedly useful, comfortable as well as profitable, by preserving property from decay and waste, that a discerning people will avail themselves of this opportunity and give a liberal patronage Terms from the present date (Beds will be taken in the morning and returned in the afternoon if required)—For dressing beds weighing 25 lbs. and under, $1; over 25 lbs 4 cents per lb Ticks washed at 25 cents and the beds returned as soon as dry. ARRANGEMENTS OF THE KENNEBEC AND BOSTON STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY 1837.

THE superior Steam Packet NEW ENGLAND, Nathaniel Kimball, Master, will leave Gardiner every MONDAY and FRIDAY, at 3 o'clock, P. M and Bath at 6 o'clock P M.

Leave Lewis's Wharf, Boston for Bath and Gardiner, every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

Carriages will be in readiness to take passengers to and from Hallowell, Augusta and Waterville, on the arrival of the Boat, and on the days of her sailing.

Hack fare from Augusta 37½ cts.; from Hallowell 25 cents. Books kept at the principal Hotels in Hallowell and Augusta.

FARE.

From Gardiner to Boston, $4 00 }
" Bath " $3 50 } And found.
Deck Passengers, $2 00 }

The NEW ENGLAND is 3½ years old 173 feet long, and 307 tons burthen. During the past winter she has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, and the proprietors have spared neither pains nor expense to render her in all respects worthy of public confidence. That she is the fastest boat on the eastern coast is now universally admitted, and her superiority as a sea-boat has been fully proved.

Travellers from the eastern part of Maine to Boston and from Boston eastward, will find this route in many respects preferable to any other. The mail stages from Bangor and Belfast arrive before the departure of the boat; and the boat arrives at Gardiner on her return passages from three to six hours before the departure of the eastern stages; thus affording travellers an opportunity of spending several hours in Gardiner, Hallowell and Augusta.

CURE YOUR RHEUMATISM!!!

RHEUMATIC Liniment and Pills, for the cure of Gout, Acute and Chronic Rheumatism, Stiffness in the Joints, Numbness, Sprains, Bruises, Chilblains, Corns, &c. &c.

This preparation is not surpassed by any in use for the above-named diseases, is prompt and efficient in its action and may be relied on as perfectly safe. In fact it may be considered a DESIDERATUM in the list of curatives, and combines advantages not possessed by any article of the kind heretofore offered to the public. The Pills should in all cases of Rheumatism be used with the Liniment, for which ample directions accompany each bottle. They are equally well adapted for family physic, and may be taken with advantage in Billious complaints and Colds attended with fever, pain in the back, &c &c.

The Rheumatic Liniment and Pills are put up in packages, each containing a three ounce bottle of Liniment and a box of thirty Pills, at the very low price of 50 CENTS PER PACKAGE.

Prepared by H. K. HINCKEY, Chemist and Apothecary, Portland, Me.

NEW-ENGLAND HOUSE,
BANGOR, MAINE.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public that he has removed from the Franklin House to the new and elegant house lately erected at the corner of Harlow and Franklin-streets, about six rods north of the Franklin House. He tenders his sincere thanks to the public for their liberal patronage last year at the Franklin House, and solicits the continuation of it in his present situation: pledging himself to attend personally to the wants of those who may call on him, and employing none but good and faithful servants. He will endeavor to make his house equal to any in this city. The New England House is much larger than the Franklin House, which enables him to accommodate a much larger company than he could in his former situation. There is a stable attached to the House, furnished with the best of hay and grain. Ostlers equal to any in the State. Also Horses and Carriages of all descriptions, for the accommodation of those who may wish to hire. A Carriage will always be in readiness to take passengers to and from the boat.

N. B. Seats will be secured in all the lines of stages leaving this city.
